Section 13.04.03 Declaratory and Injunctive Relief

Section 13.04.04 Implied Consent

Section 13.04.01 Tribal Court Civil Jurisdiction

The Tribal Council has conferred upon the Tribal Court "all judicial authority of the Tribe." The Tribal Council understands this to mean that the Tribal Court may exercise civil jurisdiction to the full extent permitted under the laws of the United States of America.

Without limiting the generality of that grant of authority, the Tribal Council hereby declares that any person, whether or not a member of the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe or a resident of the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation, who in person or through an agent does any of the acts in this Code enumerated, thereby submits said person, and, if an individual, their personal representative, to the jurisdiction of the Tribal Court as to any civil cause of action arising from the doing of any of the following acts:

- A. The transaction of any business within the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation;
- B. The commission of a tortious act within the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation;
- C. The ownership, use, or possession of any property whether real or personal situated within the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation;
- D. Contracting to insure any person, property, or risk located within the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation at the time of contracting; or
- E. Performing duties as an employee of the Tribe, a Tribal enterprise, or other organization or commission formed by the Tribe within the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation.

The service of process upon any person who is subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this Tribe may be made personally in the same manner and with the same force and effect as though personally served within the Reservation.

The "Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation" shall mean and include all Indian Country within the jurisdiction of the Tribe and all other persons, property and places within the Tribe's jurisdiction at all on and off-reservation locations to the fullest extent allowed under Article I of the Tribe's Constitution.

Section 13.04.02 Means to Carry Jurisdiction into Effect

When jurisdiction is vested in the Tribal Court, all means necessary to carry it into effect are also given, and in the exercise of this jurisdiction, if the course of proceeding is not specifically pointed out by this Title, a suitable process may be adopted by the Court which is in harmony with the spirit of Tribal Law.

Section 13.04.03 Declaratory and Injunctive Relief

The Tribal Court may issue all writs necessary and appropriate in aid of its jurisdiction and agreeable to the usages and principles of law. The Court shall have the power to issue such declaratory and injunctive relief as it may deem appropriate in cases brought before it. The Court may issue declarations of the rights and legal relationships of any interested parties before the Court seeking such declaration. Further necessary and proper relief, based upon a declaratory judgment, may also be issued.

Section 13.04.04 Implied Consent

Entrance by any person onto the Jamestown S'Klallam Reservation shall constitute acceptance of the jurisdiction of the Tribal Court and a consent to such jurisdiction over their person concerning any legal action under the Laws of the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe and shall be deemed consent to service of summons or process by registered mail with return receipt requested at their last known address.

Chapter 13.05
Appointment and Removal of Judges

Sections:

Section 13.05.01 Appointment of Judges

Section 13.05.02 Judicial Officer

Section 13.05.03 Disqualification of Judges

Section 13.05.01 Appointment of Judges

The Northwest Intertribal Court System (NICS) judges are hereby appointed to be the judges for the Tribe. The Chief Judge for the NICS is hereby appointed to be the Chief Judge of the Tribe. They, upon approval of the Northwest Intertribal Court System, may appoint such Associate Judges as are deemed advisable upon approval of the Tribal Council by Resolution.

Section 13.05.02 Judicial Officer

The Council may appoint a judicial officer to preside over arraignments, sign search warrants, swear in police officers, act as a liaison between the NICS and Tribal members and perform other duties as requested by the Tribal Council. The judicial officer shall serve for such term and for such compensation as shall be determined by the Tribal Council. To be eligible to serve as a judicial officer of the Tribal Court, a person must:

- A. Be at least 25 years of age;
- B. Never have been convicted of a felony, or never have been convicted, within the past ten years preceding his/her service, of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, corruption or dishonesty;
- C. Agree to be subject to a background investigation which shall be conducted by the Tribal Administrative Department;
- D. Live within 200 miles of the Reservation;
- E. Have successfully completed a Tribal Court orientation session conducted by a judge of the Tribal Court, the Northwest Indian Court System, or an attorney knowledgeable in Indian law and familiar with practice before the Tribal Court, and
- F. Have passed an examination, which shall be created, administered and evaluated by a qualified professional consultant and given in conjunction with the Tribal Court orientation session described herein; demonstrating:
 1. At least a minimal working knowledge of the operation and procedures of the Tribal Court and the sources of law applied by the Tribal Court;
 2. A basic ability to communicate well in writing;
 3. A working knowledge of the Tribal Code; and
 4. A familiarity with federal Indian law.

Section 13.05.03 Disqualification of Judges

A defendant, or other party to any legal proceeding, may change the assignment of their case from one judge to another upon filing an affidavit of prejudice with the court stating their belief that the judge assigned to the case is prejudiced against their case. The affidavit shall be in writing and must be filed with the Court before any trial action has been taken by the initial judge. The second judge shall pass on the adequacy of any further affidavits of prejudice and enter the appropriate order, either hearing the case or reassigning it to another judge. Any further affidavits of prejudice must state the reason(s) the defendant, or other party, has for believing the second judge is prejudiced against their case. An order denying any reassignment shall be deemed a final order and may be appealed from immediately. All further actions in the case will be stayed pending the outcome of the appeal.

Chapter 13.06
Clerk and Records

Sections:

Section 13.06.01 Clerk of Court

Section 13.06.02 Court Records

Section 13.06.03 Copies of Laws, Titles and Code

Section 13.06.01 Clerk of Court

The Tribal Council shall appoint a clerk of the Court. The clerk's duties shall include giving assistance to the Court, Tribal police and fisheries officers and Tribal citizens in drafting complaints, subpoenas, warrants, commitments, and other documents incidental to the lawful function of the court. The clerk shall attend all proceedings of the Court and keep a taped record of the proceedings. The clerk shall perform other duties as designated by the Chief Judge, CEO, and judicial officer, if applicable. The clerk shall be covered by the blanket bond provided for all Tribal employees before commencing their duties.

Section 13.06.02 Court Records

- A. The Tribal Court shall keep a record of all proceedings, including relevant documents, reflecting the title of the case, names of parties, substance of the complaints, names and addresses of all witnesses, date of hearing or trial, presiding judge, findings of the Court and jury, judgment, written opinion and other facts important to the case; and
- B. The records shall be kept locked in the Tribal Court files for the Court's information and for inspection by duly qualified officials. All other requests for information from Tribal Court files must not infringe on the personal privacy of any person or unnecessarily disrupt the work of the Tribal Court, or its staff or officers.

Section 13.06.03 Copies of Laws, Titles and Code

The Tribal Court shall be provided with copies of the Tribal Code, including this Title, and any regulations which are applicable to the conduct of the business of the court. Copies of such documents shall be available for public inspection during regular business hours at the Tribal Government Center and on the Tribe's official web site.

Chapter 13.07
Spokespersons; Legal Counsel; Prosecutor

Sections:

Section 13.07.01 Spokespersons or Legal Counsel Appearing in Tribal Court

Section 13.07.02. Duties and Powers of a Judge

Section 13.07.03. Adequate Representation of Defendants and Individuals before the Court

Section 13.07.04 Prosecutor

Section 13.07.01 Spokespersons or Legal Counsel Appearing in Tribal Court

Any person appearing in Tribal Court shall have the right to a spokesperson or legal counsel, at their own expense, to assist in presenting the case, provided that such spokesperson or legal counsel shall first have to be admitted to the Tribal Court Bar. A spokesperson need not be an attorney. The Court may appoint a spokesperson or legal counsel to assist any person if, in the discretion of the Court, it appears necessary to protect such a person's rights under the Jamestown S'Klallam Constitution or other law.

Section 13.07.02. Duties and Powers of a Judge

Each Judge of the Court shall have the power to appoint legal counsel as necessary per this Chapter.

Section 13.07.03. Adequate Representation of Defendants and Individuals before the Court

The Tribal Court shall place in operation a plan for furnishing representation for any person financially unable to obtain adequate legal representation in accordance with this Chapter.

Representation shall include counsel and other services necessary for adequate representation in matters under the Law and Order and Youth codes as follows:

- A. Representation shall be provided for any financially eligible person who:
1. is charged with a Felony offense;
 2. is a juvenile alleged to have committed an act of juvenile delinquency;
 3. is charged with a violation of felony level probation;
 4. is under arrest, when such representation is required by law;
 5. is subject to a mental condition hearing;
 6. is in custody as a material witness;
 7. is entitled to appointment of counsel under the Tribal Constitution;
 8. faces loss of liberty in a case, and Federal law requires the appointment of counsel; or
 9. is the subject of matters contained in the Title 33 - Youth of the Tribal Code.
- B. Whenever the Tribal Court Judge determines that the interests of justice so require, representation may be provided for any financially eligible person who is charged with a Felony, Gross Misdemeanor, Misdemeanor or an infraction for which a sentence to confinement is authorized.
- C. Attorneys shall be appointed in a substantial proportion of the cases.
1. Attorneys must be members of the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribal Bar as well as a member of a state bar within the United States.
 2. In every case in which a person entitled to representation and appears without counsel, the Tribal Judge shall advise the person that he has the right to be represented by counsel and that counsel will be appointed to represent him if he is financially unable to obtain counsel. Unless the person waives representation by counsel, the judge, if satisfied after appropriate inquiry that the person is financially unable to obtain counsel, shall appoint counsel to represent him/her. Such appointment may be made retroactive, and the court shall appoint separate counsel for persons having interests that cannot properly be represented by the same counsel, or when other good cause is shown.
 3. Duration and Substitution of Appointments — A person for whom counsel is appointed shall be represented at every stage of the proceedings from his initial appearance before the court through appeal, including ancillary matters appropriate to the proceedings. If at any time after the appointment of counsel the court finds that the person is financially able to obtain counsel or to make partial payment for the representation, it may terminate the appointment of counsel or authorize payment as the interests of justice may dictate. If at any stage of the proceedings, including an appeal, the court finds that the person is financially unable to pay counsel whom they had retained, it may appoint counsel and authorize payment as the interests of justice may dictate. The court may, in the interests of justice, substitute one appointed counsel for another at any stage of the proceedings.

4. Payment for Representation. The contract rate for legal representation services is set out in the agreement between the Tribe and the Northwest Intertribal Court System, as amended from time-to-time.
- D. Determination of whether person needy -- Factors for determination -- Affidavit of indigency.
1. The determination of whether a person requiring appointed legal counsel is a needy person shall be deferred no later than the first appearance in court. Thereafter, the court shall determine, with respect to each step in the proceedings, whether he/she is a needy person. However, nothing herein shall prevent appointment of counsel at the earliest necessary proceeding at which the person is entitled to counsel, upon declaration by the person that he/she is needy under the terms of this section. In that event, the person involved shall be required to make reimbursement for the representation involved if he/she later is determined not a needy person under the terms of this section.
 2. Criteria. When the Court is required by law to appoint counsel for any applicant asserting indigent status, the basic criteria for determining indigency status shall include:
 - a. Wages and earnings from employment, unemployment compensation, workers compensation, child support, pension/social security compensation, Tribal or State temporary assistance to needy families (TANF) program compensation, disability compensation, and all other similar forms of compensation/governmental assistance comprising household income;
 - b. Other financial assets, including but not limited to available cash reserves in savings and checking account, stocks, bonds, certificate of deposit, or other liquid assets; other similar ownership or entitlement to available financial resources with which the applicant might hire legal counsel; but excluding property necessary to maintain employment;
 - c. Consideration of the number and age of the applicant's dependents;
 - d. Consideration of basic living costs, including housing rent and/or mortgage payments, child support actually paid, child care expenses (for employed applicants only), health insurance, medical/dental expenses, associated costs of caring for infirm family member, employment transportation costs, cost of fuel, food, telephone, utilities, taxes owed, credit cards/other loan payments and other similar basic costs of living;
 - e. Consideration of court-imposed obligations, any bail/bond expenses for the particular offense at issue, and other similar costs associated with the particular legal proceeding; and
 - f. If the spouse of the applicant is the victim, the spouse's income shall not be included for the determination of indigency.
 3. Marginally indigent. Applicants that are marginally indigent must be appointed counsel. One who is marginally indigent has a total monthly gross income that is less than 187.5 percent of the current federally established poverty levels, pursuant to the "Federal Poverty Guidelines" published in the Federal Register by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Those who are marginally indigent shall be subject to recoupment, contribution, or a partial payment program, as determined by the Court.
 4. Presumptions for Eligibility. Any applicant for indigency status lacking other substantial liquid assets, spousal income or other sources of income is presumed indigent and thus entitled to the appointment of counsel under any of the following circumstances:
 - a. The applicant's total monthly income is 125 percent or less of the current federally established poverty levels, pursuant to the "Federal Poverty Guidelines" published in the Federal Register by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Those whose total monthly income is 125 percent or less of the current federally established poverty levels shall not be subject to recoupment, contribution, or a partial payment program;

- b. The applicant currently receives public assistance and thus has been deemed eligible for federal supplemental security income (SSI), Medicaid, aid to families with dependent children (AFDC), general assistance, food stamps, refugee settlement benefits, poverty-related veterans' benefits, or other similar poverty-based governmental financial assistance;
 - c. Any applicant who at the time of application has been committed to a public mental health facility;
 - d. Any applicant who at the time of application is incarcerated in a state or federal penitentiary; and
 - e. Juveniles are presumed indigent. In determining the eligibility of a child for court-appointed counsel in juvenile court, only the juvenile's income shall be considered when determining if counsel should be appointed. A juvenile applicant's parent should complete the recoupment component of the affidavit, as the juvenile's parents may be subject to recoupment, contribution, or partial payment program. However, a parent's refusal to complete the recoupment component of the affidavit of indigency shall in no way impede the appointment of counsel for the juvenile. If a parent is the victim or the relative of a victim the parent is not required to include their income for recoupment, contribution, or partial payment purposes.
5. Presumptions against Eligibility. Any applicant for indigency status can be presumed not entitled to the appointment of counsel under any of the following circumstances:
- a. The applicant's total monthly income exceeds 187.5 percent of the federal poverty levels, pursuant to the "Federal Poverty Guidelines" published in the Federal Register by the U.S. department of health and human services;
 - b. The applicant possesses monies and/or liquid assets that exceed $1,000, and the applicant is accused of a misdemeanor violation and no felony;
 - c. The applicant possesses monies and/or liquid assets that exceed $5,000, and the applicant is accused of any Class A, B or C violation; or
 - d. A liquid asset is cash or an asset that is payable on demand. Available credit to the applicant shall not be considered a liquid asset.
6. The ability to contribute a portion of the cost of quality legal representation shall not preclude eligibility for assigned/appointed counsel. If an applicant who is not indigent is able to show that they have tried to employ counsel, but is still unable to employ counsel, then the court must appoint counsel. Those who qualify under this section shall be subject to recoupment, contribution, or partial payment program.
7. Redetermination. A preliminary determination of ineligibility for legal representation shall not foreclose a redetermination of eligibility when, at any subsequent stage of a proceeding, new information or changes in circumstances affecting the applicant's financial status becomes known.
8. Confidentiality. Court rules, regulations, and/or procedures concerning the determination of initial eligibility and/or continued eligibility shall not require assigned/appointed counsel and/or public defenders to make any disclosures concerning the applicant's financial status beyond those disclosures necessary to the court's determination of indigency status.
9. Other prohibitions. The process of applying for publicly provided counsel shall not serve to deter any applicant from exercising any constitutional, statutory, or procedural rights, including, but not limited to, the following:
- a. Stringent application of financial eligibility standards shall not cause an applicant to waive representation of counsel rather than incur the expense of retained counsel; or
 - b. The applicant's exercise of the right to counsel shall not be conditioned upon the waiver of any other constitutional, statutory, or procedural rights.

10. Requests for specific appointed counsel. When a defendant makes a request for a specific appointed counsel such request shall be considered and decided by the court.
11. When an applicant who is not indigent is appointed counsel, the Tribe may recoup moneys for the services provided.
12. Financial disclosure form. A form requesting relevant information from the applicant shall be completed for each applicant prior to the appointment of counsel or as soon thereafter as practicable.

Section 13.07.04 Prosecutor

The Tribal Prosecutor shall have the authority to represent the Tribe in all Criminal proceedings and Civil Infraction provisions of the Tribal Code, and in any civil proceeding as directed by the Tribal Council in Tribal Court. The Prosecutor shall make all final decisions on the submission of complaints or other legal action to be taken in the prosecution of cases.

Judge/Court Representative

Section 13.08.04 Tribal Court Roster

The Clerk of the Court will maintain a roster of all spokespersons admitted to practice before the Tribal Court, which is available for public inspection. The Clerk will also keep on file the signed oaths of each such person.

Section 13.08.05 Tribal Court Bar Admission Fee

Every person wishing to be a spokesperson in the Tribal Court will pay an admission fee of Fifteen Dollars ($15.00). Such fee is to be used for the purpose of maintaining a Tribal Court law library and to provide the spokesperson with revisions in the Tribal Code. A judge may waive the Tribal Court Bar fee upon good cause shown.

Section 13.08.06 Tribal Court Bar, Disbarment

Any spokesperson violating the Spokesperson's Oath shall be subject to disbarment. The Tribal Court judge shall prepare in writing a complaint against such spokesperson including reasons for disbarment. Within ten (10) days of receipt of such complaint, the Tribal Council shall hold a hearing at which time the spokesperson involved may present witnesses and a defense of their action. The decision of the Tribal Council shall be final.

Section 13.08.07 Appeal

Any person denied admission to the Tribal Court Bar may appeal to a panel designated by the Tribal Council. Such panel shall be composed of three (3) members of the Tribal Council. A person shall have the right to a hearing before such panel within the (10) days of their denial and shall have the right to present witnesses and present a defense. The decision of a majority of the panel shall be final.

Chapter 13.09
Contempt of Court

Sections:

- Section 13.09.01 Contempt of Court, Civil
- Section 13.09.02 Contempt of Court, Remedial Sanction, Civil Penalty
- Section 13.09.03 Contempt of Court, Criminal

- Section 13.09.06 Contempt of Court Appeal
- Section 13.09.07 Appeal of Contempt, No Stay of Proceedings

Section 13.09.01 Contempt of Court, Civil

The Jamestown S'Klallam Tribal Court may charge with civil contempt any person who neglects their duty or is guilty of other misconduct which is harmful to the rights of a party to an action. The following cases are illustrative of civil contempt, but shall not limit the scope of this section:

- A. Willful neglect or violation of a duty or disobedience to any lawful order or process of the Tribal Court by an attorney, spokesperson, clerk or other person duly authorized to perform a judicial or ministerial service;
- B. Any disobedience to any lawful order or judgment or process of the Tribal Court by any person;
- C. Any deceit or abuse of the process or proceedings of the Tribal Court by a party to an action or proceeding;
- D. Failure to obey a subpoena, or to attend, or to be sworn, or to answer as a witness; or
- E. Failure to appear as a juror in compliance with the notice of jury duty.

Section 13.09.02 Contempt of Court, Remedial Sanction, Civil Penalty

The court may sentence any person guilty of a civil contempt as follows:

- A. If actual loss or injury has been suffered by a party by the misconduct of the guilty person, the Court shall order them to pay a sum sufficient to compensate such party; or
- B. If the misconduct was a failure to perform an act or duty which is yet in the power of the person to perform, the Court may order imprisonment until they have performed it, but only for as long as the imprisonment serves a coercive purpose, and until they have paid any fine imposed by the Court.

Section 13.09.03 Contempt of Court, Criminal

The Tribal Court may charge with criminal contempt any person guilty of:

- A. Disorderly, contemptuous or insolent behavior, any breach of peace, noise or other disturbance which directly tends to interrupt the proceedings of the Court or which impairs the respect due to its authority;
- B. Committing an assault upon any person in the courtroom;
- C. Willful disobedience of any process or order lawfully issued or made by the Court;
- D. Resistance willfully offered to the lawful order or process of the Court;
- E. The unlawful refusal of any person to be sworn or affirmed, including refusal to answer any material questions except where refusal is based on valid legal grounds;
- F. The publication of a false or grossly inaccurate report of the proceedings of the Court;
- G. Any person who shall request a jury trial and fail to appear on the scheduled trial date;
- H. Any fraudulent or willful interference with a witness to an action or proceeding; or
- I. Improperly conversing with a party or others on the merits of an action by a juror.

Section 13.09.04 Contempt of Court, Criminal Penalties

The Court may sentence a person guilty of criminal contempt of court to imprisonment for a period not to exceed one (1) year or pay a fine not to exceed Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00), or both, with costs, for each separate contempt of court.

Section 13.09.05 Contempt of Court, Notice to Contemnor

In any contempt proceeding whether civil or criminal, the alleged contemnor shall be entitled to reasonable notice and time to prepare a defense, unless a criminal contempt is committed within the presence of the Judge, in which case it may be punished without delay.

Section 13.09.06 Contempt of Court Appeal

An appeal may be taken to the Jamestown S'Klallam Court of Appeals from any final order finding a person guilty of a criminal or civil contempt.

Section 13.09.07 Appeal of Contempt, No Stay of Proceedings

A party in a proceeding or action under this Chapter may seek appellate review under applicable court rules. Appellate review does not stay the proceedings in any other action, suit, or proceeding, or any judgment, decree, or order in the action, suit, or proceeding to which the contempt relates.

Chapter 13.10 Informal Dispute Resolution

Sections:

Section 13.10.01 Authority

Section 13.10.02 Initiating Informal Dispute Resolution

Section 13.10.03 Agreed Dispositions

Section 13.10.04 Limits on Evidence, Subsequent Proceedings

Section 13.10.05 Failure to Reach a Settlement

Section 13.10.01 Authority

Nothing in this Title shall prevent persons who are involved in a dispute from submitting their dispute to persons, organizations or agencies outside the Tribal Court for resolution in an informal manner.

Section 13.10.02 Initiating Informal Dispute Resolution

Any party to a suit, or the judge upon their own motion, may request that the parties attempt to resolve their dispute by using a mediator or a mediation panel.

Section 13.10.03 Agreed Dispositions

Where the parties are able to agree upon a mutually acceptable resolution, the terms of the agreement shall be put in writing and signed by the parties.

Section 13.10.04 Limits on Evidence, Subsequent Proceedings

In order to encourage full disclosure and cooperation between the parties, substantive information that was obtained at an informal dispute resolution hearing may not be admitted into evidence at a later court hearing or proceeding unless the parties agree otherwise. However, if the subsequent proceeding involves the care of a youth, the terms of an agreed upon disposition shall be admissible.

Section 13.10.05 Failure to Reach a Settlement

In the event that the parties fail to reach agreement or if a party fails to appear at a scheduled mediation hearing, and the mediation hearing was ordered by the judge, then the mediator shall report to the judge on the reason(s) for a failure to reach agreement, or the parties agreed to an alternative dispute resolution on their own, then either party may initiate formal proceedings in Tribal Court by filing a petition with the Court Clerk.
