43 years ago on February 10, 1981, the United States Government officially re-recognized the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe. To the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe, this day serves as a reminder that S'Klallams have existed on the Olympic Peninsula since time immemorial and honors the current and past Tribal leaders and Citizens who have advocated and contributed to the Tribe gaining re-recognition. Federal re-recognition was no easy feat and this battle for recognition crossed multiple decades and generations. The Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe was the second tribe in the nation to be acknowledged with this status under the Bureau of Indian Affairs' 1978 Federal Acknowledgement Process.

Fast forward to February 10, 2024, Jamestown Tribal Citizens, Descendants, and their families gathered at the Dungeness River Nature Center to share a meal and stories about the importance of federal recognition and the history of the Tribe and, watch the "As Long as the River Runs" documentary about the struggle for Tribal treaty fishing rights and the Boldt Decision.

February 12, 2024 is the 50th anniversary of the Boldt Decision, a significant court ruling affirm Tribal fishing and treaty rights.

Tribal Citizens spoke of the significance of federal recognition, reflected on the past 43 years, and shared stories of the importance of the Boldt Decision. Some of the speakers included: Chairman/CEO W. Ron Allen, (Allen Family), Councilwoman Dana Ward (Chubby Family), former Councilwoman/Tribal Elder Elaine Grinnell (Prince Family), Tribal Elder/Spiritual Leader, Pat Adams (Hall/Adams Family), Tribal Citizen/Traditional Foods Gathering Coordinator Mackenzie Grinnell (Prince Family).

Thank you all who attended the event, and we look forward to celebrating again next year.

WELCOME!
Ranjeet Seera, ARNP
Family Practice

I was born and raised in Northern India. I moved to the states with my family in 1998 and started my journey in the medical field. I earned my Registered Nurse degree at Peninsula College and went to Washington State University for my undergraduate studies and obtained my Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from Washington State University. My work experience includes working in the medical/surgical unit for 8 years and then Intensive Care Unit for 7 years at Olympic Medical Center (OMC) in Port Angeles. Following my passion for advanced patient care, I pursued my MSN, specializing in Family Nurse Practitioner Studies from Gonzaga University while continuing working at OMC. Whether addressing acute illnesses, managing chronic conditions, or promoting preventive health measures, I strive to empower patients to actively participate in their own healthcare journey. I chose JFHC because we share the same commitment of providing holistic, quality, comprehensive, passionate, and patient-centered care.

I enjoy reading, cooking, hiking, and I am deeply passionate about CrossFit.

Denelle Martin, RD
CDCEs

My name is Denelle Martin, and I am originally from Walla Walla. I like to say that I lived there before Walla Walla discovered grapes- my childhood was spent riding bikes amongst onion, wheat and pea fields. In time, I attended the University of Idaho where I graduated with a BS in Food and Nutrition. Following graduation, I moved to Phoenix Arizona for economic and higher education opportunities. The deserts, mountains and wildlife were new and literally breathtaking. I worked for many years with local Native American Tribal Diabetes Programs and became a CDCEs.

Additionally, I was employed by the National Institutes of Health for a Type 2 medication study called GRADE (Glycemic Reduction Approaches in Diabetes: A Comparative Effectiveness Study). Our site in Phoenix prioritized Native American individuals with the goal of making study results applicable to this population.

Most recently I worked for Phoenix Children's Hospital as part of a cutting-edge team of Endocrinologists and Dietitian/Diabetes Educators. I learned a great deal about obesity and nutritional interventions that complement our newer medication therapies.

I love to read history and memoirs, ride my bike and cook new recipes in my crockpot. I am all about nourishing the body with food and finding peace in ourselves regardless of body size.

I came to Jamestown Family Health as I truly enjoy working with the Native American Indian Community, and your clinic came highly recommended. I have not been disappointed- you guys are amazing and kind.

I am looking forward to working with you all in the Most Beautiful Place in Washington!

Meet the Tribe's New Public Safety & Natural Resources Enforcement Sergeant, Calvin Lehman

Hello, I am Calvin Lehman, and I will be serving the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe as the Public Safety & Natural Resources Enforcement Sergeant. I came to you from the Suquamish Police Department where I have been working as the Sergeant of The Marine Unit. I have been working for the Suquamish Police Department for the last ten years and I am excited to be able to serve another tribal community.

I was born in Oregon but have lived in Washington since I was five. I grew up in Bremerton and attended Olympic College. I graduated from the University of Washington with a degree in Fisheries Science. I am happily married to my wife Mandy, and we have two children, our son Sully, who is 6, and our daughter Ruby who is 13. We live in Port Ludlow and love the quiet community surrounded by trees and water. We enjoy family outings and go camping as much as the rain will allow.

I cannot imagine living and working anyplace else other than the Salish Sea and its abounding natural beauty. Protecting this amazing resource and surrounding lands for the people of the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe and community is both an honor and a privilege. I look forward to meeting everyone I will be serving, and I am always looking for input on how to do that in the best way possible.

Culture Department Announcements & Events

ʔəyəs čənšəwi – Happy March!

All events that the Culture Department host are open to all Jamestown Tribal Citizens, Descendants, and their families.

ATTN: Jamestown Tribal Artists!

The Culture Department is looking to create a list of Jamestown artists (Citizens and Descendants) who would be willing to take on commissions (orders or custom orders) or teach classes. If you are interested, would you please give us the following information?

- Tribal Family affiliation
- Your address
- What are your forms of payment?
- What type of artwork or items do you make?
- What type of artwork or items do you want to expand into (but do not necessarily do yet)?
- Do you take commissions? (orders or custom orders)
- Do you offer shipping for orders made by non-local people? Do you offer shipping to Alaska?
- Would you be willing to teach classes to our Jamestown Tribal Community (Citizens, Descendants, and their families) and/or Jamestown Canoe Family (includes friends of Jamestown community)?
- Would you be willing to teach classes to non-Native individuals or groups in our local greater community?
- For classes, do you prefer teaching individuals, small groups, larger groups, or all the above?
- Do you teach in-person, virtually, or both?

Employment Opportunities in the Culture Department

- Traditional Foods Assistant: This person will work with the Traditional Foods Gathering Coordinator, Mackenzie Grinnell, to oversee the Community and Healing Gardens, and will help manage the grant funding the program.
- NEW – Cultural Gatherings Assistant (previously known as the Culture Programs Assistant or Canoe Journey Coordinator. This person will be helping Emma Barrell, Culture Coordinator, with all events and activities.
- If you're interested in working outdoors in the community garden, we'll be advertising soon for two - 20 hour/week garden assistants. Keep your eyes peeled or reach out to Mackenzie if you already know you would be interested.

Contact Jamestown's HR department if you are interested in applying for any of these positions, their email is HR@jamestowntribe.org

Song & Dance

The Dungeness River Nature Center has been a great location for Jamestown's song & dance, so we will continue hosting the event there in the Cedar Hat building. No need to RSVP, just show up with your drum and rattle and a warm coat. We'll keep the soup warm!

Both Lower Elwha and Port Gamble have opened their bi-weekly song and dance to Jamestown and you're welcome to stop by and join in on their days.

Cultural Weekend

Join us at the Dungeness River Nature Center (DRNC) for our second Cultural Weekend. If you were able to attend the 2022 we had cedar weavers, wool weavers, beaders and had so much fun! We're hoping to have several artists available to guide small groups in cultural activities. Snacks and lunch will be provided.

We are currently looking for artists to lead activities for this event. Please reach out to Emma ASAP if you have a talent, you'd like to teach others. We are looking for basket weavers, beaders, wool weavers, cedar/fiber bracelet makers, walking stick creators...whatever skill you can offer that others may enjoy learning. People should be able to complete the activity in 2-9 hours. We have funding to thank artists. Let Emma know if you can teach for 4 hours, 1 day or both days and what supplies you might need.

What: Cultural Weekend

When: March 16th & March 17th, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Where: Dungeness River Nature Center, 1943 W. Hendrickson Rd. Sequim, WA 98382

Nettle Harvest & Processing

Nettles are one of the first edible greens to emerge in the spring. They provide nutrients that help us to feel strong and energetic. In early spring, we harvest nettles that will be eaten the same day, or they can be blanched and frozen for later use. We have a couple good patches of nettle near our building that we will head out to harvest from and then return to the kitchen and process. Come learn about nettles with us, taste some nettle treats! Harvest what you want to take home and any extra we will save to use at future community meals! Stop by and see what we are doing or stay for the whole event!

Above: Participants at last year's Nettle Harvest & Processing event.

What: Nettle Harvesting & Processing

When: March 20th, 3:00 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Where: TFC, 197 Correia Rd., Sequim, WA 98382

First SCS Family Dinner Night is a Huge Success!

Photos and Article by Dustin Brenske, Social and Community Services Director

We had approximately 100 people at our first Social and Community Services Family Dinner. With our new Food Pantry grants, we were able to include sharing a meal for the community on a regular basis. It was so fun to see everyone together. This event is not limited to one program, yet includes everyone in the Tribal Community! It's a great place to meet your SCS staff, see one another, or even just stop by quickly and take food home for your family.

We learned quickly that this is going to be a popular event and we will need to make even more food! We collaborated the Culture Team with this event so that attendees could be provided a meal that included quality traditional food items. The dinner was a healthy and delicious home-style meal featuring fresh salmon with a nettle pesto and a fresh berry parfait dessert. Thank you to all that supported this event, either to attend the dinner, help set up, prepare, cook or clean up.

We look forward to seeing you at the next dinner on March 27th!

Indian Child Welfare (ICW) Program Recruiting for Foster Care Placement Providers

The Jamestown ICW Program is recruiting community members willing to be on-call as potential Foster Care Placement Providers for Tribal youth of all ages. This can include emergency and long-term placements, as well as weekend and short term support for current foster homes and youth. A stipend will be provided for families who complete a background check and home walk-through.

For more information on becoming a Foster Care Placement Provider, please email our Youth and Teen Programs Supervisor, Jessica Humphries (Collier Family), jhumphries@jamestowntribe.org, or ICW Case Manager, Tom Sheldon, tsheldon@jamestowntribe.org.

Library Corner

New Library and Exhibit Space Opens!

In late 2018, Leanne Jenkins, former Planning Director, came into Heron Hall Library with a plan to move the north wall out an additional 20 feet or so. We were thrilled at the prospect of getting a bit more space! From that humble beginning (and nearly five years later), the dream blossomed from a building of less than 2,000 sf to over 5,000 sf that includes expanded shelving, a recording room/small conference room, 14-seat theater, and a dedicated exhibit space (not to mention two public restrooms!).

In 2019, we received a grant from the Institute for Museum and Library Services to create a museum-quality exhibit in our newly planned library. We met with Tribal Elders, Tribal Citizens, and staff to gather thoughts and suggestions on what the exhibit should contain. We hired a professional exhibit designer, Andrew Whiteman and he turned those early ideas into a beautiful reality. You can view his work online at: <https://www.flickr.com/photos/132793117@N04/albums/72157712990399602/>.

The journey to this new library and exhibit space has been long, interesting, sometimes tortuously tedious, but ultimately super satisfying. We had the grand opening last month. If you didn't make it to the celebration, we hope you'll visit soon. If you were at the celebration, we hope you'll come back often. Whether you come to check out books, see the exhibit, attend an event, or just sit and enjoy the view of the bay, we're sure you'll be pleased and proud of this new addition to the Jamestown campus.

New Tribal Librarian—Cheryl Martin

New Tribal Librarian, Cheryl Martin joined the library team in early January and is eager to assist Tribal Elders, Tribal Citizens, and all library patrons with their reading and research needs. Cheryl comes to the library from the Jefferson County Library in Port Hadlock. She previously worked for the North Olympic Library System for 9 years where she provided many library services and programs to library patrons. Cheryl has been living on the Olympic Peninsula since 1999 and is very excited to bring her deep community connections, library service experience, program knowledge, and research experience to the Jamestown Tribal Community. Stop in to meet her and the library staff. Brandon Taft continues on as dedicated Library Staff and we expect to welcome new staff in the coming months.

Reminder: NOLS Bookmobile Visits

The NOLS bookmobile will be at the Jamestown campus on the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of the month from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.. You can get a library card, borrow and return books and DVDs, and get help with library online services. For the month of March, we hope to host them in the new Tribal Library parking lot. We are also looking at expanded days/times/locations. Stay tuned!

Speaking of books on wheels...The Tribal Library book delivery services are still on hold while we work hard to get the new library open and fully staffed. We hope to get back on a regular schedule at the first of the year. However, Tribal Elders and Tribal Citizens/Descendants can always call and request a special delivery. Just call 360-681-4632 or email library@jamestowntribe.org.

Building is Now Open—You may browse our collection at <https://library.jamestowntribe.org/home> and click on the red "Search Library Catalog" button. We have a lot of new books that are just begging to be read.

Research—If you have a question or topic that you need to research, we are happy to help. If you have any questions or concerns, would like mobile or curbside services, or help with research, please call us at 360-681-4632 or email library@jamestowntribe.org.

JST Citizen Lori DeLorm (Johnson Family) Runs for Re-election for Clallam Conservation District Board

For the past three years, Tribal Citizen Lori DeLorm (Johnson Family) has served on the Clallam Conservation District (CCD) Board of Supervisors and has decided to pursue re-election! If you are a Clallam County resident, you have the opportunity to support Lori by casting your vote on March 19.

Being a water quality specialist for the Jamestown S’Klallam Tribe for the past 25 years, she is deeply invested in the preservation of the S’Klallam lands in addition to being a JST Citizen. In Lori’s candidate letter of interest, she states “I have a strong commitment and devotion to the CCD and our community. I hope to continue to serve and be a valuable member of the CCD board of supervisors”.

“I have worked alongside CCD staff on many projects within Clallam County. During my 25 years of service to JST and Clallam County there have been many success stories in this great community we all share,” said Lori DeLorm.

What is the Clallam Conservation District? The Clallam Conservation District is a subdivision of the state government and helps land users conserve natural resources and is mostly funded by the Washington Conservation Commission. You can learn more about CCD at: https://clallamcd.org/news_district-history.
